

CUT YOUR SHOE BILLS WITH NEOLIN SOLES

"The answer to the problem of shoe wear lies in the use of Neolin Soles," so says H. L. Evans of Steubenville, Ohio.

"For five months," says Mr. Evans, "I have been wearing the same pair of Neolin-soled shoes at my work at the La Belle Iron Works and they are good for two months more wear. As my work takes me to all parts of the mill daily where I have to walk over cinders, slag, etc., it is simply out of the question to buy anything else to take the place of Neolin Soles."

You too—and your whole family—will find Neolin-soled shoes wear long and so save money. You can get them in the styles you like at almost any good shoe store. And any repairman will re-sole your worn shoes with Neolin Soles—scientifically made to be durable, comfortable and waterproof. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels—guaranteed to out-wear any other heels.

London, April 19.—Major J. C. P. Wood, the British aviator, who left East Church, England, yesterday afternoon in his airplane for this city, fell into the Irish sea last night. Major Wood and Captain C. C. Wylie, his navigator, were uninjured.

The accident occurred near Holyhead, to which place Navigator Wylie went for assistance. It is believed that the machine can be saved. No details of the accident have been received here, the news of Major Wood's falling into the sea having been received by telephone from Curragh.

Major J. C. P. Wood left East Church, England at 3:15 o'clock Friday afternoon. During the evening he was reported to have passed Sheerness of the Thames, a short distance from East Church, and then was lost for several

DANIELS SAW ARMY REVIEW

Was Bombarded With Question "How Soon?" When He Spoke of Army's Return

HE SMILED BUT DID NOT ANSWER

Americans

Coblenz, Friday, April 18 (By the Associated Press).—Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, speaking to the men of the 2d division of the American army of occupation this afternoon, told his audience that he hoped the army would be taken home as soon as possible.

"As captain of the ferryboat which brought the American army to Europe," he said, "I wish to say that I have under my command 70,000 American boys who also are clamoring to return to their homes. I have told those boys they would get home, but that, first, they must help get back to the United States the boys who fought in France and Belgium."

Mr. Daniels contrasted to-day's assemblage with that of the Germans, who stood on the same ground in 1914 before beginning the war.

of conquering the world, but America entered the war without desire for territorial gains."

The secretary's reference to the soldiers' return home was answered with cheers, and shouts of "How soon," were heard. The secretary smiled, but did not answer.

This morning during the review of the division, the Belgian order of the crown was conferred on Captain Gaines Mosely, and the order of Leopold on Captain Robert Balke. Both are officers in the marine corps. Thirty-three distinguished service crosses and French war crosses were presented officers and men of the division. On the reviewing stand with Secretary Daniels, were Mrs. Daniels, Major General Joseph Dickman, commander of the third army, Major General John A. Lejeune, commander of the 2d division, Brigadier General John L. Hines, commander of the 3d corps, and naval and army officers, who are accompanying the secretary on his trip.

Following the review, Secretary and Mrs. Daniels were given a ride across the fields to the speakers' stand on a caterpillar tractor.

Mr. Daniels and his party will be guests of General Magin, commander of the French army of occupation, at Mayenne, to-morrow.

Topics of the Home and Household.

Sprinkle flour over a berry pie before putting on top crust.

Dip a cloth in camphorated oil and rub lightly over the furniture. This will take away all marks and make the furniture look like new.

To remove iodine stains quickly from white goods, rub with liquid ammonia as long as any spot remains, then rinse in clear water.

Flowers Scarc in London.

Only princesses and profiteers wear flowers in London nowadays. Oh, and brides, of course, and one or two very popular actresses, but just folks no longer dream of buying them. Why, a big bunch of roses costs as much as a fur scarf, $25, and even a modest cluster of violets brings $3.

To the English this dearth of flowers is a real deprivation and no wonder, says the Springfield Republican. Most rooms are darkly papered, and even those originally light have grown dingy with the war, so a vase of flowers helped to dispel the winter gloom.

Women have invented all kinds of bright decorations for their dinner tables which have long since been guilts of white cloths. Among the most successful of these are the bunches of silk oranges or tomatoes or grapes which are fastened to satin centerpieces edged with gold filigree lace to simulate a golden dish. These were first introduced by a royal princess and the idea raged right over London. It takes exceptionally clever fingers and time, too, to make this satin fruit, so there is not much of it about.

Disabled soldiers have taken up the notion and make the most natural imitation and somehow the men seem more clever than women in grouping their pieces, though they usually need advice about color blending.

A table set of a centerpiece of grapes and plums on matted silver edged with silver and individual dishes each with a tiny Della Robbi border of silken fruit all made by a soldier with one arm, sold at a recent bazaar for $50.

Care of Salads.

As with all our careful food work, selection of materials for the making of salad is of first importance, and the Springfield Republican has the following to say upon the subject:

Fresh vegetables and greens must be strictly fresh when purchased. It is quite useless to expect to prepare an appetizing, crisp salad if the materials are wilted.

Care must be given salad greens as soon as they are delivered. Separate the lettuce or romaine, wash and shake to dry, then place the quantity in a fresh tea towel or salad bag, shake any remaining moisture out and put in a cool place until needed. Never leave fresh salad greens in water. Wilted lettuce is sometimes partially revived by immersion in cold water for 20 minutes or so, but it revives much better if cleaned and placed in the salad bag on ice.

Cress is an addition to any salad. A sprig of watercress added to a cottage cheese or bean salad adds just the touch that lifts them out of the seemingly overthrifty class. Cress will keep indefinitely if given the same treatment we give parsley for long keeping. Wash the green thoroughly, shake as dry as possible and put in a mason jar. Screw the top down just one thread to hold. Moisture will gather on the side of the jar and so long as it does the greens will keep fresh. Add a few drops of cold water as moisture dries out.

Canned spinach, beans, cabbage or any canned vegetables to be served as salad should be opened, turned into a dish and chilled for an hour or so before serving. Any cleaning necessary, as removing the veins from shrimp and any washing of dry pack products, should be done when the can is first opened.

Boiled Dressing—½ tablespoonful salt, 1 teaspoonful mustard, 1½ tablespoonfuls sugar, red pepper, ½ tablespoonful flour, 2 egg yolks or 1 egg, 1½ tablespoonfuls nut-ola, ¼ cup milk, ¼ cup mild vinegar. Mix dry ingredients, add slightly beaten egg and mix well. Add melted nut-ola, then scalded milk gradually and vinegar very slowly. Cook over boiling water until the mixture slightly thickens or coats the spoon. Strain, if necessary. Use cold.

Russian Dressing—1 cup boiled dressing, 1 cup whipped cream, ¼ cup chili sauce, 2 tablespoonfuls minced pimiento, 2 tablespoonfuls minced green peppers, 1 tablespoonful chopped cucumber pickle, 1 tablespoonful chopped nuts, 1 tablespoonful Worcestershire sauce. Chill all ingredients, mix and serve at once.

APPEAL OF ARMENIANS.

Request to United States to Act as Mandatory.

London, April 19.—"We ask America simply to assume a burden, to perform a service to humanity," says Professor Gilbert of Oxford university, in a statement advocating that the United States accept a mandate of the league of nations to administer and protect Armenia.

"Armenia has been saved from the Turks and Kurds after suffering one of the most awful persecutions known to history," adds Professor Murray. "A remnant of the Armenians still alive can be reconstituted into a nation; but they will be too weak and disorganized to maintain independence or internal order, unless they are helped and protected by some other nation."

"The protecting nation must be very strong, absolutely disinterested, known and trusted by the Armenians, and not already overburdened by other duties elsewhere. There is no nation in the world except America which satisfies these four conditions."

"If America will accept the mandate, the Armenians can still be saved as a people; if America refuses, in danger of great region of the world is in danger of sliding into anarchy."

What Color Of A Tune Do You Like

Pernaps you don't realize there are pink pieces of music, red rags, violet jazz, and blue melodies.

Those who know best about music say so; and undoubtedly we have heard topical songs with a dash of lavender.

Colortropsouteverywhere. When Goodrich brought forth Black Tread rubber, the color caught; and soon a lot of tires were singing the black song in treads.

Of course it is quality, not color, that makes Goodrich treads outwear others.

The distinctive coloring of Silvertown Cord Tires, and their graceful modeling make them much sought by motorists to dress smart cars.

But Goodrich would make them ugly as an old shoe if ugliness would add another mile to their durability.
